Wittenberg Wins State Contest.

Wooster Ties Hiram for a Close Second.—Frazier Handicapped by a Severe Cold.

Wooster's Contingent Very Demonstrative and the Display of College Spirit Throughout Was Exceptionally Strong.

[Special to the Voice]

In the State Oratorical Contest held Thursday evening at Alliance, C. R. Bowers of Wittenberg carried off the honors for the State and will represent Ohio at the Inter-State Contest to be held at Notre Dame, Indiana. The contest was the greatest ever held. In giving out the ranking and per cent. several of the judges failed to sign their names to their decisions, hence the vote of each individual judge is impossible. The following however gives the names of the contestants with their ranking:

Contestants	Rank of Judges	Total Rank	Per Cent
J. S. West.....2	5 4 5 2	18	4
of Denison
C. O. Reynard.....4	2 3 4 1	14	2
of Hiram
Miss Tucker.....5	6 2 6 6	25	6
of Mt. Union
Miss Hemington.....6	3 6 3 4	22	5
of Buchtel
F. F. Frazier.....1	4 5 1 3	14	3
of Wooster
C. R. Bowers.....3	1 1 2 5	12	1
of Wittenberg

In order to decide the tie it was necessary to revert to the per cent of Mr. Frazier and Mr. Reynard which resulted in giving second place to Hiram by only four points. The percentages of only the two speakers named above were given out.

It will be noted with satisfaction that Mr. Frazier received as many firsts in rank as did Mr. Bowers. In making a statement for the VOICE, after the contest, Prof. Kirkpatrick said, "The failure of Wooster to gain first place was due solely and entirely to Mr. Frazier's severe cold."

Throughout the day and in fact beginning Wednesday delegations from the various colleges with their representatives have been arriving in the city. The delegations have memberships as follows: Wooster, 25; Buchtel, 22; Hiram, 94; Wittenberg, 13; Denison, 4. All are registered at the Hotel Keplinger, the headquarters of the Oratorical Association. The lobby was the scene of much conjecturing and nervous impatience throughout the day.

F. F. FRAZIER.

The contest took place in the First Methodist Church. The audience packed the church to the doors, even standing room being at a premium. Over 1000 people were present. The audience was exceptionally enthusiastic. The Wooster delegation, seated in the west section of the auditorium, began the cheering which waxed warmer as the time went by. It reached a climax when the delegation rose and sang "For Love of Wooster U," followed by the College yell.

At 8:03, President Randall of

Japan

Mixes up with Russia at U. of P.

Students of Hostile Countries Engage in Mimic War.

[Special Correspondence.]

While it is everywhere acknowledged that the declaration of war between Japan and Russia would have very far-reaching results, it was hardly thought that the strife would extend to the interior of the United States, much less affect the peace and quiet of the life in American universities. Such, however, is the case, as there has been a brush between the Japanese and Russian students at the University of Pennsylvania. The combat took place on Thursday and occurred in the U. of P. college hall.

The row was precipitated by the upperclassmen, who found the Jap. students in a state of great elation over their countrymen's victories, and urged them on to flaunt the newspapers telling of the Russian defeat in the faces of the Russian students and naturally this irritated the Czar's subjects and a miniature riot ensued. The Japs and the Russians mixed, urged on by the cries of their fellow students, and as the affair assumed serious proportions, the dean was observed approaching and hostilities were at once suspended, both Japs and Russians declaring they would have it out to a finish at a future time.

Later, when Mori and Nakagha, the two leading Japanese students entered their class room, they were received with rounds of applause, while a student enthusiast in the rear row of seats shouted, "Another victory for the Japs."

The college authorities, it is understood, are rather worried over the possible outcome of the friction which has been caused between the Jap. and Russian students since the war has been inaugurated. Further developments in the matter will be watched with interest. Bets are being placed among the students of U. of P. as to the final winners in the college war, with odds being offered on the Japs. and but few Russian backers to be found.

On College Hill.

Miss Eva Hay, who has been ill for several weeks at her home in Beach City, resumed her studies Monday.

See the Japanese acrobats, under the direction of E. A. Ohori, '05, at the minstrel show, Tuesday night.

After an absence of a week owing to an injury received in the gymnasium, Frank Coan was able to resume work Monday.

The committee feels more than satisfied with the minstrel show at present, so you can expect something great in the amateur line.

Rev. J. H. Deeds, pastor of the Methodist church, filled the Westminster pulpit Sabbath morning, preaching a very helpful sermon. Dr. Vance in turn filled his pulpit.

Miss Helen Anderson, because of the condition of her health, has found it necessary to withdraw from the University for the balance of the year and has gone to her home in Mt. Vernon.

The following students will compose the chorus in the college minstrels, Tuesday evening:

Interlocutor—Triffit.

1st end men—Meese, Acton.

2nd end men—Warner, Palmer.

Tenors—Thomas, Houston, Wadsworth, Allis, Abbey, Ringland, Rice, McConnell, Lehman, Townsend.

Basses—Frazier, Stentz, Crouch, Irvin, Chidester, Ormsbee, Fitch, Bailey, Heindel, McClure.

There will be no recitations held Monday, as that is Washington's birthday.

R. L. Todd will give an entertainment Friday evening in Cookton, and on Saturday evening in Sulphur Springs.

The candidates for the VOICE editorship promise to be more numerous for the coming year than for some time, no less than four good men now being in the field, with a number of counties still to hear from. The election does not take place until June.

The athletic association is still in debt on the athletic field fence to the sum of $200.00. The minstrel show on Tuesday evening is given to help pay this debt. Show your college spirit by coming and also by advertising it. It will be a rare treat.

The illustrated lecture, Tuesday evening in Memorial Chapel by Dr. Vance on his travels in the Holy Land was just such a treat as would be expected from that gentleman; everybody expected something good; no one was disappointed, and it took a good speaker to draw the crowd present on such a cold night as that evening was.

Many funny things have happened this year and most of them will be brought to your notice again at the minstrel show, Tuesday evening.

Everyone is curious to know the "Secret" as advertised on the posters. Well, come to the minstrel show, Tuesday evening, and find out. You will laugh and wonder all the rest of the year.

Beta Gamma

Of Kappa Kappa Gamma at Home.

Beta Gamma chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma entertained at the home of Miss Elizabeth Tawney on West Liberty street, Monday evening. The rooms were decorated with wreaths of carnations and many colored hearts. Long festoons of hearts connected the chandeliers and the corners of the rooms, which were lit by soft light tinged with red. Red also prevailed in the color scheme of the dining room where, surrounded by tall tapers, a huge K K G cake was exposed to view. Red hearts and decorations of carnations and foliage completed the picture.

Upon entering, the guests were met by a miniature edition of Dan Cupid. A search for candy hearts was the first feature of the evening, Miss Clementine Axtell and Mr. Dicoct winning the prize for finding the greatest number.

A distribution of partners for refreshments was effected by means of a heart and dart arrangement, the men showing their skill and marksmanship in an attempt to pierce a heart, the heart bearing the name of the one who was to be his partner. Elaborate refreshments were served.

Among the out of town guests were Miss Durstine, of Cleveland, Miss Felger, of Mansfield, and Miss Waddell, of Marion.

"Many are called, but few get up."

We take pleasure in placing before our subscribers one of the first telegraphic specials ever issued by an Ohio college publication. We also wish to state that, inasmuch as Washington's Birthday and our usual time of publication coincide, no VOICE will be issued Monday. The next number will be the Hoover Cottage edition.

The contest is over. It has been settled that a Wooster man is not to represent Ohio in the Inter-State. One thing, however, is sure, and that is, that this fact is not due to any failure on the part of Florian F. Frazier. No contestant ever worked more faithfully for the honor of the Black and Gold. Nor was the contest a walkaway. Mr. Frazier put up a splendid oration, and, in the minds of the audience, first place was by no means unanimously awarded to the contestant to whom it was given by the official judges.

There should be a student rally before literary tonight to show our appreciation of Mr. Frazier's labor for Wooster.

Incidentally, there is another contest next year.

Again has the nation been called to mourn the loss of one of her most illustrious sons. Marcus A. Hanna was a typical American and his rare good sense and influence was as wide as the broader twentieth century civilization. In the heat of political strife the masses have failed to realize the practical honesty of purpose and loyalty of heart toward those who knew him as their employer and best friend. Nor was this interest confined alone to those whose homes were supplied from the profits of his own personal enterprises. He was a friend of the toiler in all lands and in all conditions. The nobility of his great soul shone in his private and public life and unpretentionally and steadily as the flight of time, he moved to a position of honor and power that but few have been permitted to enjoy. The grave question of the day is, who shall fill his place in the councils of his state, and the more mature deliberations of the greatest legislative body of the nation.

Officers Elected.

Y. M. C. A. Held Important Meeting Wednesday Evening.

The annual election of officers for the Y. M. C. A. was held at the University Wednesday evening. The meeting was exceptionally well attended, nearly all members of the association being present. The following officers were elected: President, E. S. McConnell; Vice President, A. C. Good, Treasurer, E. M. Thomas; Recording Secretary, J. M. Ormsbee; Corresponding Secretary, W. H. Hoover. The devotional portion of the meeting was conducted by Rufus Winger. Altogether it is considered by officers and members one of the most interesting meetings of the entire year.

The Last Appeal.

Students Urged to go to Alliance to the Contest.

The last effort to rally a large number of followers to the cause was made at the chapel exercises Thursday morning when Prof. Vance urged all students who were able to go to Alliance to cheer F. Frazier, Wooster's representative in the State Oratorical Contest, on to victory. At the close of the address Prof. Vance was loudly applauded by the students.

Before the Battle.

Speculations Were Numerous and Varied.

Editorial View From the Seat of the Contest.

(Special to the Wooster Voice.)

Alliance, O., Wednesday, Feb. 17.

The lobby of Hotel Keplinger, the headquarters of the Oratorical Association, is crowded tonight with enthusiastic collegians and speculations as to the outcome of tomorrow night's battle are rife. A number of delegates have already arrived, four of the speakers are in the city, and this, with the fact that little knots of Mt. Union students are found in every part of the hotel discussing the affair, guarantees that the whole gamut of championship possibilities has been run.

J. S. West, the Denison orator, arrived yesterday afternoon and the fact that he has been taking work under Prof. Fulton, of Delaware and Prof. Trueblood, of Michigan, raises his chances materially in the estimation of many. That Frazier comes from Wooster, were there no other grounds for such an estimation, puts him in the rank of the favorites. The ability of Miss Hemington, of Buchtel, is also recognized, and she is feared as a contestant with good chances of winning out. Of course, tomorrow night may work out many changes of opinions, but tonight the Wittenberg and Mt. Union representatives are scarcely looked upon as anything more than possibilities.

It is a peculiar circumstance that every contestant after arriving with all the eclat of a presidential candidate in his busy year, immediately makes a pilgrimage to the First Methodist Church, where the contest is to be held, and he invariably comes back with his lips moving, undoubtedly with the words of the oration which is to bring him fame tomorrow night.

The Index Board will be greatly obliged to any students who will report amusing occurrences happening in the class-room or elsewhere, and drop same in the Index Box in the reading room.

Fence Debt Will be Liquidated

If Coming Attractions are Well Attended—Gymnasium Exhibition.

The debt which has been resting upon the shoulders of the Athletic Association ever since the completion of the University field fence promises soon to be raised, if the present plans of the Executive Committee carry through.

Not only will the Minstrel Show on February 23rd be given for this purpose but, following a custom of former years, a Gymnasium Exhibition will take place at the end of the term, the proceeds from which will be devoted to covering the remaining deficit.

Although the proceeds from former exhibitions of a similar nature have gone to the Physical Director, Mr. St. John refuses to keep the money which custom has made his own, and says that he will turn it over this year to the Athletic Association in order that it may help liquidate their debt.

The date for the exhibition has not been set yet; however, it will probably take place about the end of the term, shortly before the examinations begin. Classes for special work have already been organized and are now putting in all extra time toward making this event a success.

The purchase of new apparatus this winter will make possible some exhibition work which in former years we could not have.

Northern Trip.

Wooster Will Play Buchtel at Hiram.

Friday afternoon the Varsity Basket Ball team leaves on the 3:17 train for their trip north, on which they will play Buchtel and Hiram. Last year Wooster played two games with Buchtel and shared the honors with the Akron team, winning one and losing the second game.

Last season's management was unable to secure a date with Hiram, so that we have no recent games by which to judge our equality, but Hiram has a strong team this year and will make Wooster play some fast ball. She has defeated every Ohio team she has played, including Reserve and Oberlin, and has been beaten only by Allegheny College. Wooster plays a return game with Hiram on the home floor on March 12.

The Poet's Corner.

The literary fever has struck Wooster with a vengeance. The Voice box gave us the following effusion last week and as a proof of the fact that poetic genius is not altogether lacking in Wooster and that spring is on its way to this city, we publish it for the benefit of our readers.

The Fad.

Boy saw a mound,
The sight his fancy took;
Simply could not rest
Until he wrote a book.
Girl received some letters
From a hair-brained lad.
Of course she writes a book,
For its the latest fad.
Man taught Greek for years;
His jokes to students took.
So thought upon the preplets
He'd perpetrate a book,
Woman too, with thoughts of fame,
After quite a look
At maps and ancient countries
Began to write a book.
Oh, everyone's affected,
And I'm affected too;
I surely have the fever;
I don't know what to do.
If you should wax poetical
Or wish to write a book,
Just study out this formula
And without a second look:
Formula—First take an ounce of brains,
Four grains of humor too,
A pound of wit and nonsense
Stuck together with brain glue.
HERBERT JUSTINE ALLSUP.

Wittenberg Wins State Contest.

the Association opened the contest. After a few preliminary numbers, the first speaker, J. S. West of Denison delivered his oration. He was followed in close succession by Mr. Reynard of Hiram, Miss Tucker of Mt. Union and Miss Hemington of Buchtel followed.

Then came Mr. Frazier. He stepped upon the platform with a firm tread. Those who heard the preliminary contest here are aware of the quality of Mr. Frazier's oration. He delivered it in a superb manner and it was clearly evident throughout that the effect upon the audience was profound. His handicap by the severe cold from which he has been suffering for the past few days was evident. Altogether it was a great oration and there was scarcely anyone present who would not admit but that had Mr. Frazier's voice been in perfect condition he would have carried off the honors for Wooster. Both the oration and the delivery showed the careful preparation which has been going on under Prof. Kirkpatrick during the past months. Too much cannot be said of Mr. Frazier's effort. The program concluded with Mr. Bower's oration.

Immediately after all was confusion. College yells were given and the shaking of hands and expression of congratulations. The scene in the lobby of the Keplinger might be likened unto the scenes in the stock exchanges at the noon hour.

The Wooster delegation returned to the city at 12:30 o'clock.
